

The Daily Express

Date: 6th August 2010

Circulation:664,293

DAILY EXPRESS

ROYAL DATE: Sophie, left, Liz and King Goodwill

Sophie's taste of Zulu Goodwill

SOPHIE ANDERTON is no stranger to turning up to the opening of new restaurants or clubs. For that matter, neither is former Atomic Kitten singer Liz McClarnon. But it's rare they'll be competing with royalty for their share of the canapés.

The glamorous pair stepped out for the opening of new African eatery Shaka Zulu in London's Camden Town and were joined by King Goodwill Zwelithini, the King of the Zulus, who made a special trip from South Africa to open the restaurant. British businessman Oliver Rothschild was clearly impressed as he offered Shaka Zulu's owner Roger Payne £22million to recreate the venue in Johannesburg.